

International Dyslexia Association - Alaska Branch Educators Scholarship Application

IDA Alaska is offering professional development scholarships for its current members in the amount of 75% of eligible program fees, up to $500. If you are not already a member, check out the International Dyslexia Association's new one-year FREE starter membership for classroom teachers. To apply for a scholarship please include the following information using no more than 500 words in an email to info.ak@dyslexiaida.org.

Name:

Email:

Phone:

Employer:

- Name of requested professional development program (see pre-approved list below, or request approval for an opportunity not listed).
- Why do you want to attend this conference/training?
- Will you take what you learn and help others? How?
- Would you be willing to give a presentation on what you learned to help IDA Alaska, or others, learn about the program?
- Any additional information you would care to share:

Professional Development Opportunities:

Many organizations aligned with the Science of Reading are successfully presenting high-quality online conferences, webinars, certification programs, and continuing education programs. IDA Alaska compiled a list of recommended opportunities and hopes to support its members with this new membership benefit. Continuing education opportunities not on this list, if aligned with the Science of Reading, can be eligible upon approval.

Pre-approved continuing education opportunities:

Variable Dates	IDA National & Branch Conferences – IDA branches across the nation are offering virtual programs from Orton-Gillingham & Wilson training to topic-based workshops
Ongoing	The Reading League – Online Academy
Ongoing	Dyslexia Training Institute
Spring	Orton-Gillingham Academy – Annual Conference
Summer	Society for the Scientific Study of Reading - Conference
Fall	The Reading League Conference
Variable Dates	IDA Accredited Independent Teacher Training Programs
Variable Dates	IDA Accredited University Programs